

BRITISH COMMITTEE FOR THE REUNIFICATION OF THE PARTHENON MARBLES

06 September 2021

Dear Professor Stampolidis

On behalf of the British Committee for the Reunification of the Parthenon Marbles, I gladly welcome the news of your appointment as Director of the New Acropolis Museum, in succession to our long-standing friend and colleague Professor Pandermalis. I have known and admired you and your outstanding field-work for a number of years; but I know that you are, above all, a museum person through and through and of the highest repute, versed in all the aspects which you will need to call on in this demanding post.

You have also in the past shown sympathy with our cause, and I look forward to a harmonious collaboration in the years to come.
